

Generation Us: The Challenge of Global Warming

Hosted by the Centre for Canadian Studies and the School of Earth and Environment, University of Leeds

How can modern society move away from a culture of fear and denial of climate change to one of empowerment? A lecture on the history and the future of the science of global warming, exploring how international policy, media portrayal, and technological solutions can all impact climate change — for better or for worse.

Monday, 31st October, 5pm-7pm

Drinks reception to follow

Seminar Room 8.119,
School of Earth and Environment,
University of Leeds.

This event is FREE, but please email Christine (en08cc@leeds.ac.uk) to register for the lecture and for the reception.

Andrew Weaver is a Professor and Canada Research Chair at the University of Victoria. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada, the American Meteorological Society and the Canadian Meteorological and Oceanographic Society. He is the author of Keeping our Cool: Canada in a Warming World (Penguin Canada, 2008) and Generation Us: The Challenge of Global Warming (Orca Books, 2011).

